

Back At It Once Again

What a mug PoohBear has. It's so memorable that several volunteers recognized the sweet boxer mix originally adopted from the shelter several years ago. Sadly, another move to a place that disallows pets has landed PoohBear back in a kennel. Despite the early gray muzzle, Pooh is only about three-years-old. He has also been with younger kids and is housebroken. This guy is ready to squeeze right into a family and be right in the groove.

As you can see, all you have to do is show Maizie a treat and she is quick to comply by sitting to be rewarded. Maizie, at three years old was surrendered when her owner moved back with the grandparents and the dog was not a welcome guest in the home, despite the fact that Maizie is housebroken, knows basic obedience and likes other dogs according to her surrender sheet. Maizie has that beautiful tiger-stripping that is so distinctive and a great personality to go with her good looks.

Adopted as a pup, Beau, now less than a year old still was returned to the shelter for not being welcome by the other resident dogs. Beau was not getting the attention he deserved. The cautious boy is not used to shelter life, has been scared and put-off by all the commotion. Beau enjoys a lot of attention from the staff who adore him and he is gaining trust and finally relaxing a little. He is housebroken, seems to like some of the other dogs and has learned to use an invisible fence.
